Morning Giggle

While sports fishing off the Florida coast, a tourist capsized his boat. He could swim, but his fear of alligators kept him clinging to the overturned craft. Spotting an old beachcomber standing on the shore, the tourist shouted, "Are there any gators around here?!"

"Naw," the man hollered back, "they ain't been around for years!"

Feeling safe, the tourist started swimming leisurely toward the shore. About halfway there he asked the guy, "How'd you get rid of the gators?"

"We didn't do nothin'," the beachcomber said. "The sharks got 'em."

Celebrate 30 Years with Susan Aglukark!

This Child Tour
A Personal Call to Action

Susan is embarking on her 30th Anniversary of This Child Tour with special guest Angela Amarualik, who is also an Inuk artist who was born and raised in Igloolik, Nunavut and has travelled across Canada performing as a throat singer, folk singer, and pop music artist.

Susan's writing of This Child brought her to a personal call to action, get on the platform and speak up, learn, heal, share, this has been her work for these 30 years.

Susan is Canada's first Inuk artist to win a Juno (4 in total), a Governor General's Performing Arts Award for lifetime artistic achievement, and she is an officer of the Order of Canada. Susan holds several Honourary Doctorate degrees and has held command performances.

Susan's journey as a singer-songwriter began in the early 1990s when she began her writing and recording career. In Susan's early reflections was the discovery of the platform as learning, sharing and healing, this inspired her major label debut album This Child, released in January 1995.

Susan has since written and recorded 10 albums, founded the Arctic Rose Foundation, authored two children's books and has a personal memoir in the works.

About Angela Amarualik

Angela Amarualik was born and raised in Igloolik. Like many small communities in Canada's Arctic, Igloolik had many social problems. Angela worked hard to retain good attitude, improve circumstances, and be a role model for the younger kids in her town. Already community role model - as well as Miss Igloolik - Angela now uses her music to inspire Nunavummiut youth and share Inuit culture with people around the world. Starting off with the ukulele, Angela began writing songs in her native language, Inuktitut. Her musical style is a mix between ancient Inuit melodies and throat-singing, and the pop music of her childhood heroes Beatrice Deer and Hilary Duff. Her music has taken her across Canada, and in 2018, Angela released her self-titled debut album. The album was nominated for 3 Indigenous Music Awards, including Best New Artist. And took home the Award for the Best Inuit, Indigenous Language, or Francophone Album.

THE MORNING BITE

seriously simple
recipes and tips for the home cook

Need to warm up? A little of this decadent hot chocolate goes a long way.

Diane Rossen Worthington

There's no doubt that cold weather is a good excuse for making this delectable treat. And if you have ever visited Angelina in Paris and tasted their hot chocolate, you know what I mean when I say a little goes a long way. It is the thickest, sweetest and richest hot chocolate I've ever enjoyed. But while it's fun to taste it in Paris, my preferences lean more bittersweet and lighter in texture.

When shopping for ingredients, look for good-quality chocolate and cocoa. I prefer Valrhona or Guittard chocolate. Finding sweetened cocoa can be a bit of a challenge. I use Ghiradelli.

What makes this drink so special is the chocolate whipped cream that crowns the creamy chocolate beverage. For a richer hot chocolate, you can substitute half and half or cream for the whole milk. Use a microplaner or grater to grate the bittersweet chocolate for the garnish.

This hot chocolate is meant to be enjoyed as dessert in little espresso cups. You can find inexpensive shot glasses and espresso cups at World Market. Of course, you can multiply this recipe for larger cups, but recently I served this drink as a dessert in small espresso cups at a dinner party and my guests loved it. They appreciated the small portion with big flavor after a rich meal.

Hot Chocolate with Chocolate Whipped Cream (Serves 4)

Note: An important cooking tip is to whisk the hot chocolate to create a froth.

For the Chocolate Whipped Cream:

1/2 cup chilled heavy whipping cream
 1 teaspoon sweetened cocoa powder
 Grated bittersweet chocolate, for garnish

For the hot chocolate:

1 tablespoon sweetened cocoa powder
 3/4 ounce bittersweet chocolate (70% to 75% cacao), chopped
 Pinch kosher salt
 1 cup whole milk or half and half

1. Beat together the cream and cocoa powder in a chilled bowl with an electric mixer or whisk until soft peaks form. Reserve.

2. In a small heavy saucepan combine the cocoa powder, chopped chocolate, salt and milk. Place mixture over medium heat, whisking gently. Once the chocolate melts and cocoa dissolves, raise the heat to medium high; whisk more vigorously to form froth on surface. When mixture bubbles around edges and seems ready to boil, remove from heat. Do not let it boil.

3. Ladle into four espresso cups. With a spoon place a dollop of the chocolate whipped cream and grated bittersweet chocolate on top of each cup. Serve immediately.

Put Canada First & Build!

Canada needs to be a country that can build again; infrastructure, national energy projects, ports, irrigation, dams, military installations, to name a few examples. One of the most disastrous legacies of the current Liberal Government, is that Canada has been unable to build basically anything unless it is approved by a massive bureaucracy in Ottawa, supported by taxpayers, is past deadlines, and over budget. This has led to a massive decrease in our national productivity and has hurt our economy, national unity, and our resilience.

This legacy of impediment and procrastination has been supported by every one of their leadership candidates, and at every step, by the NDP. It is impossible to build prosperity, whether that is building a family home or nation-building projects that are essential, when this is the reality.

There was a level of optimism when the Liberals were elected in 2015. Our economy was on the right track, Canadians incomes were growing and national projects like Energy East, Northern Gateway, Tech Frontier, a dozen LNG Facilities, talk of expanding ports, increased rail capacity, and other nation-building projects. But over the last decade, Canada has lost its ability to build everything from big projects to home building. It is the Liberal Government who put forward legislation like Bill C-48 and the unconstitutional Bill C-69, which has had a direct, negative impact on the private sector's ability to invest in Canada and our nation's ability to build energy infrastructure. It weaponized and enabled the bureaucracy to stall the building of virtually all projects.

The current Environment Minister, Steven Guilbeault, has stated, clear as day: "I disagree with pipelines" and he didn't believe Canada should build any more highways! And the likely soon-to-be Liberal Leader, Mark Carney, stated that he supported the "veto" of the Northern Gateway pipeline back in 2021, all while his company was building pipelines in other jurisdictions.

Current trade uncertainty has emphasized how disastrous these policies have been. And while the Liberals say they have changed their minds, it is nothing more than a narrative to mask their sudden realization of how their decisions over the last decade have weakened Canada.

Conservatives, led by Pierre Poilievre, will make sure energy development is allowed to occur in Canada, leading to more prosperity and sovereignty for all Canadians. We will immediately scrap Bill C-69 and greenlight LNG plans, pipelines, factories, and port expansions to overseas markets. Additionally, we need to not "rebrand and hide" the carbon tax, we need to axe it all together! The key is that these aren't new positions for Canada's Conservatives, but rather what we have championed all along.

Additionally, if our federation is going to allow our people to prosper, we must remove barriers to prosperity which exist within our own borders. Conservatives have historically reduced, and if elected, will continue to reduce interprovincial trade barriers. Canada can become Canada's largest trading partner which will reduce reliance on foreign markets for our economic freedom. These barriers have created a de facto tariff on our own goods, costing our people billions of dollars a year.

Canada needs strong leadership to fix a decade of destructive policies which has left Canada poorer and weaker. I am proud to be a part of Pierre Poilievre's Canada First Team, which will ensure that Canada can once again build what is needed to prosper so Canadians can ultimately prosper from the blessings our country has to offer.

Canada first. Canada last. Canada always. As your representative, I will continue to work for this, for the benefit of our region of Battle River-Crowfoot, and for the country.

MEET A CHEF: PETER KEITH Red Seal Chef, MBA & Chef/Co-Owner Meuwlys in Edmonton, AB

Peter Keith is a Chef, Entrepreneur, and Community-Builder in Edmonton, Alberta. Working his way from 14-year old dishwasher to an award-winning chef and entrepreneur in just ten years, he has never been one to back down from a challenge. After winning international cooking competitions, working in some of Canada's top restaurants, and earning degrees in culinary arts and business, Peter opened "Meuwly's" in 2018. This celebrated charcuterie brand and boutique retailer has become a fixture in Edmonton's food scene.

He's a passionate speaker on topics of team leadership, mental health, and business innovation, and engages in thought leadership around the future of the food industry in an ever-changing world. He's learned how to empathize and connect with creatives, c-suite, and customers alike – and he mentors other professionals to do the same in their roles. He is also a founding member of "In the Weeds," a nonprofit focused on mental health and wellness for restaurant workers.

Peter has quickly become a sought-after voice in Western Canada's food and small business ecosystem and was awarded the Culinary Federation's "Canadian Chef of the Year" and Canadian Foodservice & Hospitality's "Top 30 Under 30" in 2020.

What made you want to be a chef?

"I decided to become a chef at such a young age – around Nine or Ten – that it's hard to remember what sparked my interest! However, I always loved cooking for family and loved ones, and that has evolved into a true passion for hospitality and community."

Why do you use Alberta ingredients in your kitchen?

"Using local ingredients is better for our environment, our local economy, and our palates – we have some of the tastiest ingredients in the world! As a chef, it's our privilege and responsibility to showcase these ingredients however we can."

What is your favourite Alberta ingredient to use?

"Meuwly's makes a lot of cured and smoked meats, so we're always featuring Alberta Pork and Beef – but I'm always excited to cook with Alberta chicken, pulses, dairy, and of course eggs!"

What dish should guests be sure to try on your menu?

"I'm very excited about our smoked beef brisket – we serve it on a freshly baked BeB's Bagel on Saturdays at Meuwly's."

Alberta on the Plate showcases the incredible bounty that is grown and produced across our beautiful province. Throughout the year, we celebrate and share the Alberta food story by introducing you to the people and businesses that grow, raise, create, and support the agri-food industry in Alberta. Every August during Alberta Local Food Week, Alberta on the Plate hosts a ten-day, province-wide dine around festival. Get more info at:

PREPLANNING A FUNERAL WITH WEBER FUNERAL HOME

To begin the process of preplanning we invite you to meet with our professional funeral directors by scheduling an appointment at our office or we can come to you at your home. We start each preplan with listening to your wishes and then we guide you with detailed information. We explain processes and procedures that happen at the time of death and offer advice for how to move forward. As part of the preplan, we talk about all the costs involved and record everything in detail for you file. By having valuable information recorded and in place ahead of time you are alleviating your family from having to make difficult decisions in the moment when they are experiencing the emotions of grief and loss.

We recognize that things in life can change. We pride ourselves in our professionalism and will easily transfer arrangements from our funeral home to another service provider. In some cases people have made preplanned and prepaid funeral arrangements with other funeral homes and may want to change providers. Weber Funeral Home will facilitate the transfer of preplans and prepaid contracts from other funeral service providers to Weber Funeral Home.

Some of the feedback we receive from families when the funeral has been prearranged:

- "We are so glad that mom and dad had their arrangements planned ahead of time, we would have been lost with out it."
- "I can't believe how easy this was, I should plan my arrangements for my family too."
- "We were overwhelmed with where to begin, having this prearrangement gave us comfort in knowing dad gave us his guidance on what to do."

Our experience as funeral directors has lead us to believe that prearranging your funeral is a gift to your family. For more information about how prepaid funerals or to discuss preplanning, please contact our office by calling 780-672-3131 to set an appointment. You are welcome to come to our office or we can schedule a time for us to come to your home.
