Morning Giggle

The teacher asked her student to write on the chalkboard the number 55. The student asked, "How do I do that?"

Teacher replied, "Write down the number 5, and beside it add another 5."

The student wrote one 5 and stopped. The teacher inquired, "What's wrong?"

"I don't know which side to write the other 5?"

Your Horoscope

by Mecca Woods

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

You might have a difficult time getting yourself going today. Don't be too hard on yourself. You can't always live life at full throttle.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Before you make assumptions about someone, why not try to get to know them first?

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)

It might be helpful to silence your notifications and reduce as many outside distractions as possible so that you can focus on more important matters.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

Beware of being too stubborn or inflexible. Try to find a middle ground.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22)

You might crave fun and adventure, but if you want what's best for you, you'll need to keep your head down and focus on work.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Being authentic sometimes means being vulnerable enough to let people see you for who you truly are.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Take time out to nurture and nourish yourself before you try to help anyone else.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Today could be overwhelming. A healthy distraction like going for a walk, reading a book, or enjoying some art could help you ease your mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

If you feel moved to shop for a nonessential item or product, give yourself a day or a couple of hours to assess if it's really worth the money.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

It might be easy to slip into a bad mood today. Journaling, moving your body, or talking it out might help you to shake it off.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

Your bandwidth might be running low. Be as choosy as possible when selecting what to spend your time and energy on.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

Be the best you can be and avoid comparing yourself to others.

FOR TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

You shrewd enough to take calculated risks. You rarely leave anything to chance, and you always have a backup plan at the ready. Even when you're thrown into the unknown, you use every tool at your disposal to find your way through it. You're creative and clever. You're multifaceted and adaptable. While you might appreciate emotional closeness, at the end of the day, you're still your own person. Anyone who tries to trample on your freedom will find that it's a good way to get on your bad side. This year encourages you to be choosier about who you call a friend.

THE MORNING BITE

JeanMarie Brownson

This one-pan pork chop dinner is savory, juicy and weeknight-easy

Sheet pan cooking deserves its all-star reputation as a minimal-mess, big-flavor way to cook. Presentation at the table impresses, too.

These all-in-one pan meals primarily feature boneless proteins, such as fish fillets, sausage, chicken breasts, and shrimp, so they cook in roughly the same time as the vegetables that get added to the pan.

However, to my mind, the most flavorful proteins are those cooked on the bone. So, the challenge is to create a sheet-pan dinner that allows the protein to brown and cook properly while still taking advantage of the vegetables cooking alongside.

Enter the center-cut, bone-in pork rib chops. These chops are the pork equivalent of beef prime rib. When cut to 1 1/4 inches thick, they have just enough fat to stay juicy and flavorful; the bone keeps the lean meat moist during cooking. For a gorgeous presentation, seek out chops with the bone ends “frenched,” that is, scraped clean of meat and fat.

Similar to grilling and cast-iron skillet cooking, using proper heat and preheating the equipment are integral to success. For sheet pan dinners, heat the oven, then preheat the empty sheet pan. Take caution as you add foods to the hot pan.

Once the sheet pan is hot, add the seasoned chops; the side that is down on the pan will immediately start to sizzle and brown. Cook them for a few minutes, then flip to brown the other side.

Now's the time to add a seasoned vegetable mixture. A mixture of small broccoli florets, black beans, and red peppers gets a flavor boost from bottled giardiniera; choose mild or spicy, as preferred. Alternatives to the giardiniera include bottled muffuletta mix or sliced pickled pepperoncini or jalapenos.

If you prefer boneless top loin chops (also known as “America’s cut”), or boneless chicken breast halves, reduce cooking time by 10 minutes. For these cuts, I prefer to par-cook the broccoli by dropping it into a pot of boiling water for a couple of minutes before adding it to the sheet pan.

If desired, serve the dinner with a side of brown rice. Start the rice cooker while preheating the oven. Or, pass sliced French bread for mopping up the delicious pan juices.

Sheet Pan Pork Chops with Black Beans, Broccoli and Giardiniera (Makes 4 servings)

- 4 frenched bone-in, center cut pork loin chops, 3 pounds total
- 4 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt
- 2 teaspoons Italian seasoning (or 1 teaspoon basil, 1/2 teaspoon oregano, 1/4 teaspoon each: thyme, rosemary)
- 1 teaspoon sweet or smoked paprika
- 1/2 teaspoon each: ground cumin, freshly ground pepper
- 4 cups broccoli florets, about 10 ounces total
- 1 medium-sized red bell pepper, cored, seeded, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 can (15 ounces) black beans, drained, rinsed
- 1/2 of an 8-ounce jar giardiniera or muffuletta mix or sliced pepperoncini
- 1/2 cup chicken or vegetable broth
- Chopped fresh parsley, for garnish

1. Pat pork chops dry. Mix 2 tablespoons of the oil, 1 teaspoon of the salt, and all of the Italian seasoning, paprika, cumin and pepper in a food safe plastic bag or shallow dish. Add chops and turn to coat well on all sides with mixture. Cover and let stand while oven preheats (or refrigerate covered up to one day).
2. If chops have been refrigerated, remove them and let stand at room temperature while the oven heats. Heat oven to 375 F on convection or 400 F on conventional setting. Set a large, heavy-duty rimmed baking sheet in the oven to preheat the pan.
3. Working carefully, arrange chops, and all the oil mixture that clings to them, on the hot sheet pan. Roast 10 minutes.
4. Meanwhile, put broccoli florets, bell pepper, black beans, giardiniera and remaining 2 tablespoons oil in a large bowl. Mix well and season with remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt.
5. Flip the chops over and move them to one side of the sheet pan. Spoon the broccoli mixture onto the other side of the pan. Pour broth over broccoli mixture. Continue roasting, stirring broccoli once or twice, until pork chops are almost firm when pressed (about 145 F on an instant-read thermometer), 20 to 24 minutes.
6. Sprinkle with parsley. Serve with pan juices ladled over everything.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS

Marvin Weber

Layne Weber

Laurel Foreman

Tyler Weber

Grief shared is grief diminished. When we experience the loss of a loved one, it is important for family, friends and community to come together and support one another. When we deny ourselves the opportunity to experience the support of the community, we add to the burden of grief by causing ourselves to journey through the pain of loss alone.

Our funeral directors have over 85 years of combined experience providing funeral services. We pride ourselves in our exceptional level of service and attention to detail. Our funeral home offers a chapel and an on-site multipurpose reception centre, that can be used for any gathering. For more information, please contact our office.
