MEET A PRODUCER

Dylan Robinson • Peter Melnyk Farms Ltd.

Dylan Robinson grew up coming out to his grandparent’s farm on weekends and summers growing up and developed a passion for agriculture as soon as he could walk. As he grew up and was able to take on more responsibilities, Dylan became more involved in the farm. Following high school, he took a year off and began expanding the family farm. Attended the University of Alberta for Crop Sciences where he was heavily involved in the Agriculture Club as well as FarmHouse Fraternity. Following University, Dylan worked in the industry while farming. Became the Chair of the Alberta Oat Growers Commission this past January.

What does your farm look like now?

“Currently we are farming around 1300 acres of Oats, Peas, Hard Red Wheat, and Canola. I farm alongside my grandpa full time and receive support and help from my fiancé, parents, and brother when their work schedules allow.”

How can restaurants and/or consumers get your product?

“By contacting myself directly. I can assist in finding end products that were sourced from local producers such as myself. For raw products, arrangements could be made on farm.”

What is one thing that you want others to know about farming?

“Farming has come a long way in many aspects. Technological advances in equipment, plant breeding, and growing practices have made modern farms more sustainable and efficient. Farmers take extreme pride in producing safe and healthy food for not only the world, but their own families as well. If the general public ever has a question about how their food is produced the best people to answer the questions is the farmers themselves. At the end of the day, we as farmers are consumers of our own finished products in the exact same capacity as the rest of the world.”

What is a favourite memory as a farmer?

“Many memories to choose from, however I would say my favourite memories revolve around harvest and having the whole family involved in different capacities. Can make for some very funny moments throughout the season.”

Alberta on the Plate showcases the incredible bounty that is grown and produced across our beautiful province. Throughout the year, we celebrate and share the Alberta food story by introducing you to the people and businesses that grow, raise, create, and support the agri-food industry in Alberta. Every August during Alberta Local Food Week, Alberta on the Plate hosts a ten-day, province-wide dine around festival. Get more info at:

Morning Giggle

Every morning during our coffee break, my co-workers and I listened to the culinary disasters of a newlywed colleague. We then tried to share some helpful hints and recipes.

One day she asked us for step-by-step instructions on cooking sweet potatoes, one of her husband's favorites. "I've finally been able to make them sweet," she said, "but how do you make them orange?"

A perfect salad for the cold, dark days of winter

Meatballs please almost everyone. Perhaps it's their concentrated flavor, maybe it's the pleasantly soft yet toothsome texture, or perhaps it's their versatility.

I like to keep a stash of suitable ground meats in the freezer for just about any meatball occasion. There's ground venison for a company-coming-over version with pasta. Then there's beef for the granddaughters to enjoy with "dip," aka pasta sauce. Ground turkey turns into lighter yet flavorful fare with fresh herbs and garlic.

Of course, all of the above meatball flavors shine when tucked into a crusty French roll for an amazing sandwich. Relatively new is the concept of a warm, golden brown meatball as a salad topping. Hey, if the greens are hearty, such as a combination of romaine and radicchio, it works beautifully — a perfect salad for the cold, dark days of winter.

To speed meatball prep, purchase freshly ground meats from the local market. Or, to control fat and texture, grind your own. For an even grind, cut the meat into 1-inch cubes. Freeze the cubes just long enough to firm them a bit. Then grind, a few cubes at a time, in a meat grinder or with the metal blade in a food processor with on/off turns until as coarsely or finely chopped as you like.

Take a tip from the pros and season the ground meat 30 minutes or so before shaping and cooking. This allows the flavors to thoroughly blend into the meat. Then, fry a tablespoon of the seasoned meat in a small skillet until cooked through. Taste it and then adjust the seasonings in the remaining meat mixture accordingly.

Tips for the best meatballs:

1. Select the best meat you can afford, but don't go too lean; for beef choose 15% or higher fat content. For turkey, choose a combination of thigh and breast meat.
2. Don't overpower the flavor of the meat with too many add-ins.
3. Don't dilute the meat's flavor and texture with too much filler, such as bread or cracker crumbs; add just enough to help the meatballs hold their shape during cooking.
4. Mix the flavoring add-ins well before adding the meat. Then blend lightly — overworking the meat can toughen the finished meatballs.
5. Refrigerate the uncooked meat mixture for 30 minutes to meld flavors.
6. Properly brown the exterior for flavor and texture.
7. Fully cook meatballs before simmering them in sauce or gravy.
8. Reheat meatballs gently to prevent toughness.

Smoky Beefy Meatballs (Makes 12)

Note: Serve these beauties atop a pile of cooked egg noodles or alongside roasted potatoes. They're dynamite tucked in a hard roll for a hearty meatball sub; slather the roll with chipotle mayonnaise if desired.

1 cup crumbled soft white bread
1/4 cup milk

THE MORNING BITE

JeanMarie Brownson

- 1 egg
- 4 green onions, finely chopped, about 1/2 cup
- 2 large cloves garlic, crushed
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh or dried parsley
- 1 tablespoon sweet paprika
- 1 teaspoon smoked paprika or 1/2 teaspoon chipotle powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon each: freshly ground black pepper, ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon dried thyme
- 2 pounds ground beef chuck, bison, venison or turkey, or a combination

1. Line a large rimmed baking sheet with a silicon pad or parchment paper. Soak the bread in the milk in a large bowl for a few minutes to soften the bread. Stir in the egg, onions, garlic, parsley, paprikas, salt, pepper, cumin and thyme. Mix thoroughly. Add meat. Use clean hands to lightly mix all ingredients.

2. Use your hands to divide mixture into 12 even portions, then roll each into a ball. Place on prepared baking sheet leaving room between each. Refrigerate 20 minutes or up to several hours.

3. Heat oven to 375 degrees on the convection setting or 400 degrees on the conventional setting. Put meatballs into the center of the oven. Bake, using tongs to turn meatballs over once, until nicely browned, about 25 minutes. Let sit 5 minutes before serving.

Meatball Salad with Radicchio (Makes 2 main-course servings)

- 2 small heads baby romaine or 4 cups baby arugula
- 1/2 head radicchio
- 2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
- 1 to 1 1/2 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon each: salt, freshly ground black pepper
- 6 Smoky beefy meatballs, see recipe, warmed through
- 1 cup quartered small tomatoes or chopped roasted red bell pepper
- Shredded Parmesan, for serving
- Chopped fresh chives or parsley, for serving

1. Tear large leaves of romaine into large pieces. Leave small inner leaves whole. Tear radicchio into large pieces and mix with romaine in a large bowl. Refrigerate covered with a damp towel until serving time.

2. Mix oil, vinegar, mustard, salt and pepper in a jar with a tight-fitting lid. Shake well. Leave at room temperature for up to a couple of hours.

3. Just before serving, toss lettuces with dressing. Place half of the mixture on each plate or in a wide shallow bowl. Top each with three warm meatballs and half of the tomatoes. Sprinkle with Parmesan and chopped chives. Serve.

Our History

Dedicated Service Since 1906

BFH EST.1906

Burgar Funeral Home was started by Hiram Burgar in the back of his hardware store in 1906 - one of the first businesses in the Camrose community. After two years, his partner, Mr. Wallace withdrew from the business and his interest was taken over by Mr. Davidson, and was renamed Burgar, Davidson and company Hardware. When Davidson left the business in 1911, Burgar took over as the sole owner and in the same year Hiram and Maude (Wilson) were married. Three children were born in this union - Helen, Roderick and Doliena.

In 1917, Hiram sold his hardware store to concentrate full time on his funeral business and moved it to the present location. Rod joined his father in the business but in 1939 left to join the Canadian Air Force. After World War II ended, Rod returned to work in the funeral industry with his father. Soon after the firm name was changed to H. Burgar and Son.

When Hiram passed away in 1949, Rod and his wife Marg (Margaret) were left to manage the business. In 1959, Alver Person joined Rod Burgar and was employed at the time construction took place for the new Funeral Home.

In 1962, the sudden passing of Rod Burgar was a great shock to the community. His funeral service was one of the first to be held after the new building was dedicated, just two weeks prior to his untimely death.

Alver Person and Marg Burgar managed the business for the next few years, and in 1965, Alver purchased the business. The firm's name was then changed to Burgar Funeral Home Camrose Ltd., as it remains today.

Roger Erickson joined the firm and, in 1967 when he left to pursue other endeavors, Rod Madison began his career in the funeral service. Burgar Funeral Home was involved in the ambulance service from the very early years until 1971 when the City of Camrose assumed the responsibility. In 1979, the well-established Daysland Funeral Home was purchased by Burgar's. Bob Hanrahan, as manager, was associated with that funeral home for more than 70 years.

Reg Madison, Joe Schulte, and Steve Haugen were a part of Burgar Funeral Home and Alver's son, John, later joined the business, and served the community until 2017. Cam Parker joined Burgar Funeral Home in 1995 and served the community for 24 years. Bart Orr joined the firm in 2011 after the passing of his father introduced him to Cam and John.

Burgar Funeral Home is currently owned and operated by Bart Orr who, along with his dedicated team, are able to provide support to families in their time of need. We at Burgar Funeral Home consider it a true privilege and honor to have served and guided the families of Camrose, Daysland and area since 1906.
