Morning Giggle

Two robins are perched a telephone wire when one spots a whole bunch of tasty, juicy worms wriggling temptingly in the grass below. They swoop down and hungrily begin eating their fill. After stuffing themselves, they feel so sleepy and full that they can't manage to fly back up to the wire. One robin suggests that they lay in the sun for a bit while they digest their meal. Well, sure enough, a cat comes along and gobbles up both of them.

The cat licks her lips and says, "Man, do I love baskin' robins!"

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Avoid trying to cram too much into one day. Adopting better time-management strategies could help you stay on track without burning out.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Be confident enough to step outside your comfort zone. You might end up having an awesome experience.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)

Let the past go; don't get stuck ruminating on it.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

Thinking outside the box or in a more innovative sense will yield rewards.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22)

What worked before might not work for you now. It's time for you to try something new.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Give yourself enough flexibility or room in your schedule to change your plans or your mind, if needed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Make time to rest. Let your body recharge and reenergize itself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Don't be so quick to write someone off. They may pleasantly surprise you with their perspective.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

Avoid taking on new projects or obligations until you've finished the ones you already have.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

Life isn't just about work. Make time to play, too.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

Beware of overthinking your emotions. Sometimes the best thing you can do is to let yourself feel them.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

You never know who you might meet. Stay open to opportunities for new connections.

FOR TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

You're very knowledgeable. However, no matter how much you may know, it's important to stay open to learning new things. You can keep your mind sharp by being open to new experiences and people, as well as visiting new places. Nevertheless, others often consider you to be a reliable and trustworthy person. You're usually the go-to person for developing, organizing and executing plans. You're an excellent troubleshooter and a logical thinker, and you pay great attention to detail. This year, take some time to get reacquainted with the creative side of life. It will reinvigorate you.

BIRTHDATE OF: Breckin Meyer, actor/filmmaker; Maya Erskine, actress/writer; Alexander Ludwig, actor.

THE GIFT - The Words and Music of Ian Tyson Stops In Camrose

The Words & Music of Ian Tyson

Eighteen years ago a number of Ian Tyson's onetime sidemen, collaborators and musical admirers came together under the banner of The Gift. It was to be a solitary weekend paying tribute to the singer-songwriter and his massive songbook.

Since that weekend, which found the troupe selling out two shows at Sherwood Park's Festival Place and another at the Arden Theatre in St. Albert, The Gift continues to surface from time to time at festivals, concert halls and cowboy poetry festivals around Alberta and B.C.

Led by pianist and vocalist Stewart MacDougall, who has written, toured and recorded with Tyson, this critically acclaimed show has wowed audiences at the Jack Singer Concert Hall in Calgary, The Edmonton Folk Music Festival,

The Dauphin Country Fest, The Centrepointe Theatre in Ottawa, The Big Valley Jamboree, and many other major venues, regional theatres and festivals.

The Gift line-up includes Tyson alumni Thom Moon on drums, Gordie Matthews on guitar, fiddle ace Myran Szott and Julian Kerr on bass. The core line-up also includes former One Horse Blue lead singer and guitarist Ian Oscar as well as vocalist Tracy Millar. The troupe is thrilled that folk-roots star John Wort Hannam has also been lending his talents to the show.

Collectively these musicians have worked on most of Tyson's recorded output since he first arrived back in Alberta from Toronto in the late seventies. The Gift rolls through 50 years of Tyson's catalogue, finding room for songs going back to the days of Ian and Sylvia and The Great Speckled Bird, through Ian's honky-tonk years, while making room for a large slice of the cowboy culture music that is heard on albums from Old Corrals and Sagebrush, Cowboyography, 18 Inches of Rain, I Outgrew The Saddle and Songs From The Gravel Road.

Tyson himself has praised the show and did the same for the 2008 companion album that featured members of this cast as well as guests like Gordon Lightfoot, Jennifer Warnes, Chris Hillman of the Desert Rose Band and Byrds fame, Corb Lund, The McDades, and Blue Rodeo.

If you are a fan of the music and career of Ian Tyson, The Gift is just that, a gift to those who understand what a force Tyson has been in country, folk and roots music for well over half a century.

Review:

"Every time I hear an Ian song a movie plays in my head. I call him poet, singer, cowboy historian and friend. This tribute is so well deserved and so well performed." – Pete Hicks seriously simple recipes and tips for the home cook

Avocado pesto, a fresh take on a classic

Diane Rossen Worthington

The other day I was talking to my dentist, who shared his recipe for avocado pesto. Since avocados are rich in healthy fats and fiber, I thought, what a good idea! I wondered how it would be to replace olive oil with avocado and discovered that this adapted Seriously Simple recipe offers a pleasant flavor and satisfying texture.

Pesto is classically made using a mortar and pestle, grinding it slowly and adding olive oil to the mixture. This food processor method may not be authentic, but it delivers a creamy, nutty version.

You'll notice walnuts are suggested instead of pine nuts. I like their warm, earthy flavor with the avocado. I've added lemon juice to help retain the green color of the basil, parsley and avocado. You might need a touch (tablespoon or so) of oil to process everything together. You'll be able to tell by the thickness of the sauce. Make sure to use a good quality Parmesan like Reggiano or Grana to pull all the flavors together.

There are so many ways to use this luscious sauce. For starters, add it to your favorite pasta variety. You can make it more substantial by tossing in some cooked chicken or shrimp, if you want. I have made a dazzling delicious chicken dish by marinating the chicken and then combining the pesto with creme fraiche.

The pesto is also lovely on grilled vegetables like zucchini or eggplant; or you can dollop it on creamy polenta, gnocchi, crispy pizzas, baked fish, fresh sliced tomatoes and mozzarella, scrambled eggs, and grilled cheese sandwiches. Use it in your next pasta salad! I've even been known to add it to my vinaigrette and as a garnish on many soups.

In other words, go for it and enhance your dishes with this wonder of a sauce-condiment. It's best to use this the day you make it, so the green color is still vibrant. It will last in the fridge a day.

Toasted Walnut Avocado Pesto (Makes 1 cup)

2 tablespoons chopped walnuts
 2 medium garlic cloves
 1/4 cup firmly packed fresh Italian parsley leaves
 1 1/4 cups firmly packed fresh basil leaves
 1 large ripe avocado, cubed
 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
 1 to 2 tablespoons olive oil, as needed
 Salt and freshly ground black pepper
 1/3 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese

1. Preheat the oven to 350 F. Place the nuts on a baking sheet and toast them for about 5 minutes or until lightly browned and fragrant. Cool and reserve.

2. While the motor is running, add the garlic cloves to a food processor and process until minced. Add the parsley and basil leaves and process until finely chopped. Add the reserved nuts and finely chop.

3. With blades turning, add the avocado and lemon juice. Add the oil, and scrape down the sides of the bowl with a rubber spatula to blend the ingredients into a puree. Add salt, pepper and Parmesan cheese; mix together. Taste for seasoning.

4. Refrigerate the pesto in a tightly covered container until ready to use.
