Morning Giggle

The school of agriculture's dean of admissions was interviewing a prospective student, "Why have you chosen this career?" he asked.

"I dream of making a million dollars in farming, like my father," the student replied.

"Your father made a million dollars in farming?" echoed the dean much impressed.

"No," replied the applicant. "But he always dreamed of it."

Your Horoscope

by Mecca Woods

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Spending quality time with someone you love can be good for your soul.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Today's great for socializing, as well as important meetings -- especially if you're hoping to reconnect with someone.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)

You can still accomplish plenty without taking on a lot. Focus on the quality of what you do, instead of the quantity of responsibilities.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

Maybe it's time to take a creative idea or talent a little more seriously.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22)

If you've had a misunderstanding with someone in your family, today paves the way for both of you to reach a consensus.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Perhaps it's time to reach out to someone and offer an apology.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

If you have fallen off your routine or haven't been feeling your best, today can help you recalibrate.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Make joy a focus for today. Aim to spend time on something that makes you happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

You need a break from all the noise and busyness of everyday life. Find a quiet space that you can escape to, even if it's just for an hour or two.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

If there's an issue to work out with a friend, you'll find today to be productive for having a conversation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

If you've been feeling the urge to revive an old project or reestablish a business relationship, put your plans in motion.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

Rediscover your love of learning. Maybe there's a topic or subject that you want to do a deep dive on.

FOR TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

You enjoy a good debate. You can skillfully argue a point without losing your cool. You know how to think on the fly, and you're also very resourceful. You might be a thought leader or an idealist at heart. At the same time, you're someone who thinks logically instead of chasing after unrealistic goals. However, there may be times when you're overly analytical. Activities that can help you to get out of your head and back into your body can be beneficial for you. For this year, make sure that your physical well-being is a priority.

IMAGINE. EXPERIENCE. CELEBRATE.

The Global Story That's Healing Hearts and Funding Local Charities & Causes: Comes to Camrose!

Before taking to the stage as an internationally acclaimed solo performer, Keith Alessi lived a very different life. A successful public company CEO, certified public accountant, and college professor with an MBA from the University of Michigan, Alessi had spent decades navigating corporate boardrooms across Canada and the United States. But when a sudden, deadly cancer diagnosis upended his life, it took a long-delayed passion—learning to play the banjo—to chart a new path forward.

That life-altering pivot birthed Tomatoes Tried To Kill Me But Banjos Saved My Life, a critically acclaimed solo show coming to the Jeanne & Peter Lougheed Performing Arts Centre for three special performances on October 22 and 24 at 7:30 PM, and October 25 at 3:00 PM.

Told through authentic storytelling, heartfelt humor, and live banjo music, the production chronicles Alessi's journey of leaving corporate leadership behind to battle illness and embrace the healing power of the arts. The result is an uplifting, deeply human tale of challenge, triumph, and resilience.

A Story of Healing and Authenticity
Brought to life under the direction of Canadian director, actress, and dramaturg Erika Conway, the show was purposefully crafted to connect with audiences on a deeply personal level.

"Keith is an entertaining and dynamic storyteller, but it is his bravery, authenticity, and vulnerability on stage that holds the real power to this piece," says Conway, who has spent over 30 years in performance, film, and TV. "We have purposefully constructed it in a way that allows him to engage you in the journey, disarm you with music and humor, and then pull at your heartstrings."

Conway notes that the heartbeat of the show lies in how life's obstacles can steer us back to our true selves. "It is my hope that it will cause you to reflect on your own journey, wake you up to listen to that nudge inside of you, and unlock the passions that have been tucked away."

A Global Phenomenon With a Local Cause
Since its inception in 2018, Tomatoes Tried To Kill Me But Banjos Saved My Life has captivated audiences around the globe. The show has enjoyed sold-out runs across Canada, Off-Broadway in New York City, and three consecutive years at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in Scotland, alongside international tours in Australia and the United Kingdom.

Yet, the production is far more than entertainment—it is a mission-driven cause. Through 100% of artist fees and ticket donations, the project has raised over $1.3 million CAD worldwide for charities, cancer organizations, music programs, and community groups.

In Camrose, that philanthropic spirit directly impacts the local community. Proceeds from all three Camrose performances will fund next season's expansion of the Lougheed Centre's BRAVO Youth Access Program, helping ensure young people in the region gain access to live arts and cultural experiences.

THE MORNING BITE

Quiche Lorraine

Prep time: 160 min

Cook time: 30 min

Servings: 4

Ingredients

200g Flour

100g Butter or Margarine

5 Tablespoons of Water

200g of Ham (alternatively cooked ham)

4 Eggs

1/4 Cream

125g grinded Edamer Cheese

For the Baking Tin: More Butter and Flour

Directions

Spread some butter on a 26cm Ø or two smaller baking tins and cover it with flour

Sieve the flour, mingle the butter/margarine in small flakes.

Form a depression in the middle of the flour and add spoons of water.

Mix all ingredients by hand until the dough becomes a homogenous mass.

Wrap the dough in aluminium foil and let it rest in the fridge for two hours (around -4 °C).

Preheat the oven at 200°C.

Spread the dough on a flour-covered surface. Roll it until it has a thickness of around 4mm. Form a crust on the sides.

Use a fork to prick the dough for a more thorough heat penetration.

Cut the ham in slices and distribute them evenly on the dough.

Divide the yolk from the egg white.

Whisk the yolk with cream.

Add the grinded cheese.

Whisk the egg white until it becomes foamy. Add it to the yolk-pepper-salt-cheese mixture.

Cover the ham in the baking tin with the mixture. Equalize the surface.

Bake the Quiche in the oven on the middle rail for 30 minutes.

After baking leave it to rest for a few minutes, then serve while it's still warm.
