SCAM ALERT!

This information brought to you by Camrose Police Service and the Camrose Morning News.

Grandparent/parent scam....Just hang up

Camrose Police Service would like to warn residents of the Grandparent/Parent Scam that has been recently circulating.

Police have received several reports from residents who have received a telephone call from someone using the grandchild or other family member scam to scam them out of their hard earned money.

The scammer will contact the victim by telephone (often a landline and often in the evening) posing as a lawyer or police officer, grandchild or other family member, indicating that they (grandchild or family member) are in some kind of trouble, in jail and need cash for bail.

In some instances the scammer will allow the victim to speak with the alleged loved one or actually impersonate the loved one by using a device to change their voice to replicate that of a loved one's voice. They may even ask if the victim knows who is calling, prompting the victim to divulge the name of a loved one, then use that name to complete the scam.

The scammer indicates that it is urgent, pressuring the victim into providing payment quickly by providing the victim with directions on how to pay, which may include a requested email money transfer or a pickup of the cash payment by a person the scammer indicates is a bail bondsman.

This is a scam.

Police, lawyers and court officials will never request an electronic money transfer or send someone to a place of residence for cash payment.

Hang up from the phone call and contact Camrose Police at 780-672-4444 (complaints line).

For more information and for tips on how to protect yourself from being scammed visit the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre at <https://antifraudcentre-centreantifraude.ca/protect-protegez-eng.htm>.

I guarantee my perfect tomato sauce is the easiest one you've ever made

Andrea Rivera Wawrzyn, TheKitchn.com

There are any number of different sauces you can top your pasta with. You can go cheesy or meaty, or herby, to name a few. The one sauce that stands above the others and the undisputed pasta sauce classic is tomato sauce.

You can make great tomato sauce with tinned tomatoes. You can also get top-notch jarred sauce at the grocery store, but sauce made with fresh tomatoes is a special treat that is best left for peak-of-the-season summer produce. At least, that's what I thought until I discovered the simple shortcut for the easiest fresh tomato sauce — the oven. This sauce is the epitome of low-effort high-reward cooking. It's wildly easy to make. No need to blanch tomatoes and peel their skins before even getting to the sauce-making. Just toss tomatoes, onions, garlic, and herbs on a sheet pan with some olive oil, roast, and blend. It's been my go-to sauce for years now, and once you try it, I bet it will be yours, too.

Key ingredients in sheet pan tomato sauce

Plum tomatoes. Plum tomatoes have a concentrated tomato flavor, thin skins, few seeds, and low water content which makes them ideal for turning into sauce. Don't be tempted to substitute large slicing or beefsteak tomatoes here, since their thicker skins won't break down as well when the sauce is puréed.

Onions and garlic. These classic aromatics add even more flavor to the sauce when roasted.

Thyme. Fresh thyme roasts in the oven with the rest of the produce, infusing the tomatoes, onions, and garlic with flavor. The leaves are then puréed into the sauce.

Olive oil. Everything is tossed in olive oil before going into the oven, which helps with browning as well as bringing a rich flavor to the sauce. This sauce is very simple, so choose an olive oil with a good flavor (there are great options at the grocery store!)

Basil. Fresh basil finishes the sauce with a bright, herby flavor.

Sheet Pan Tomato Sauce (Makes 3 cups; serves 4)

- 1 1/2 pounds medium plum tomatoes (about 7), halved lengthwise
- 5 cloves garlic, peeled
- 1 medium yellow onion, peeled and quartered
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 teaspoon kosher salt
- 3 to 4 sprigs fresh thyme
- 1/3 cup fresh basil leaves (about 2 sprigs)

1. Heat the oven to 400 F.

2. Place 1 1/2 pounds halved medium plum tomatoes, 5 peeled garlic cloves, and 1 quartered yellow onion on a rimmed baking sheet. Drizzle with 2 tablespoons olive oil and sprinkle with 1 teaspoon kosher salt. Toss with your hands until the vegetables are coated in oil. Arrange into a single layer. Top with three to four fresh thyme sprigs.

3. Roast until the vegetables are browned in spots, 25 to 30 minutes.

4. Pick the thyme leaves from the stems and add to a blender or food processor; discard the stems. Transfer the vegetables and any juices on the baking sheet to the blender. Add 1/3 cup fresh basil leaves. Process until smooth.

In Loving Memory of Charlene Adams Til We See You Again

The kitchen sits silent where you used to sit,
no songs on the radio, they've changed quite a bit.
Some new ones you missed I wish you could hear.
Your chair sitting empty where once you were near.
It's now been a year and you're still in our thoughts,
our hearts feel the pain, our emotions distraught.

Your daughter, a young lady now, captains your chair.
The car you'd beep 6 times to make sure it was there.
The memories, the miles now seem out of place.
Our mind's eye recalling the smile on your face.

We're moving on, our hearts forward must lend.
That Great Day at Last - Til We See You Again.

Finding a good job can be hard, especially for young people starting out and families trying to make ends meet. United Conservatives know that affordability is a concern right now, that's why we're focused on helping Albertans build the skills and experience they need to succeed.

We recently launched the Alberta Jobs Strategy. It's a plan to help more people in Alberta find good jobs in their communities. This strategy focuses on four main goals: showing Albertans what kinds of careers are out there, helping them get ready for future jobs, making it easier for people to get hired, and helping businesses grow so they can hire even more workers.

The Alberta Jobs Strategy brings together nearly 50 programs from different parts of the government. These programs help Albertans improve their math and literacy skills, connect Indigenous people with jobs, get more women into science and technology careers, and make sure we have enough doctors, nurses, and other healthcare workers for the future.

United Conservatives want to make life better for Albertans. This plan will make sure young people across the province can train for the trades they're interested in. It's about helping hardworking Albertans find jobs that match their skills. It also supports women, Indigenous peoples, and Albertans with disabilities – groups who often face more challenges when looking for work. The goal is to give families even more confidence so they can build a good life here.

Alberta is growing faster than any other province in Canada. More than five million people live here, and that number could reach 5.5 million by 2030. Investors are choosing to create jobs here because we have the lowest taxes of any Canadian province, the best workers, and a government committed to cutting red tape and creating opportunities. That means more jobs and more choices for Albertans.

The Alberta Jobs Strategy builds on what we're good at today and prepares us for the economy of tomorrow. By working with schools, business, and communities, United Conservatives are making sure Alberta stays the best place to live, work, and raise family. Let's build Alberta's future – one job at a time.

Serving all families like our own for over 115 years

Funeral Director - Bart Orr

Bart Orr started with Bugar Funeral Home after the loss of his father James Orr to ALS in the fall of 2009. John Person and Cam Parker recognized something unique in Bart during the arrangements while planning for his dad's funeral. A few months following James' service they asked him if he would consider joining them at Bugar Funeral Home and become a funeral director. After owning and operating his own electrical business in the Camrose, Bawlf, Rosalind and Daysland areas for many years, he welcomed the opportunity, as well as, the honor to become a funeral director with Bugar Funeral Home. As with many of the families we serve, Bart's family has been served over multiple generations with compassion by Bugar Funeral Home.

Bart and Karen have three children Hayley, Jilisse, and Bobby who are active in sports, their community, and the St Francis Xavier parish in Camrose.

The son of James and Connie (Wolbeck) Orr, Bart grew up on a farm south of Bawlf, where he completed his schooling. After high school he was off to Lethbridge University and then to Edmonton and Sherwood Park for his electrical apprenticeship. He then returned back home, where his heart had always been, to start his electrical business serving the people in the communities he knew and loved.

It was back home at Bawlf where Bart met his wife, Jim and Rita (Yuha) McTavish's daughter, Karen. Karen has been a dental hygienist in Camrose for nearly 20 years.

Bart is very proud of the history of service that Bugar Funeral Home has been known for since 1906. Serving our community and its families is his passion. Bart continues to build on the longstanding reputation of excellence, that is what makes up our past, and continually strives to maintain that same level of service, by himself and his staff, long into the future.
