Morning Giggle

A man walks into a bar and orders a drink. After noticing there are pieces of meat nailed to the ceiling of the bar, he asks the barman what they are for. The barman replies, "If you can jump up and pull one of them down you get free beer all night. If you fail, you have to pay the bar $100. Do you want to give it a try?"

The man thinks about it for a minute before saying, "Nah, no thanks. The steaks are too high!"

Your Horoscope

by Mecca Woods

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)

Take some time to unplug from all the chatter and noise. It can help you to clear your head and reset your nervous system.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

Try to be more flexible when making plans with others or working within a group. Don't be so rigid.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20)

Be mindful of the kind of commitments that you make today. Make sure it's something you'll actually enjoy doing.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22)

Stay focused on the positive instead of ruminating on the negative.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22)

Your social battery might be running low. It might be best to skip plans with friends so that you can stay home and relax.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22)

Today could be challenging for you. Having someone in your corner whom you can talk to or lean on will help alleviate any stress that you're under.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Avoid making promises unless you're absolutely certain that you can keep them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

A creative hobby or project could provide you with an outlet for difficult feelings. On another note, don't be afraid to let people see the real you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

Spend quality time with the people who matter most to you. It's important to nurture these connections.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19)

If a plan isn't coming together the way that you want, maybe it's time to call in some help.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18)

Avoid taking unnecessary risks with your money. Stick to a practical plan.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to March 20)

If you're feeling stressed or moody, maybe you need to do something that's calming, like watching the sun set, being near water, or viewing an inspiring film.

FOR TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

You never hesitate to offer a kind word or a show of support to others. You enjoy being around people and getting to know them. You always seem to know what to say and do in any social setting or situation. You're personable and easy to get along with. You usually have lots to talk about because of your varied interests and witty observations. People love having you around because you bring good vibes with you. This year, however, you might find yourself putting a pause on your social life so that you can focus more on improving your overall quality of life.

The Recycling Roundup is an opportunity for residents to responsibly dispose of a variety of materials, ensuring they are handled safely and sustainably.

Every household uses products in their home and garden that contain harmful chemicals. Any container that cautions about careful use of the product or disposal of the container should be included in the Beyond-The-Bin Recycling Roundup.

Materials brought to the Roundup should be kept in their original containers. Broken or cracked containers should be placed inside leak-proof packages and labelled. Jars or cans of unidentified chemicals can also be disposed of—simply take them to the Roundup and tell a staff member that you are unsure of the contents.

The following items will be accepted, however to reduce program costs, the preferred recycling locations are:

- Paint at the Landfill or Recycling Depot
- Used Oil, Containers, and Filters at the Landfill

THE MORNING BITE

Lamb Pilaf

Popular central asian and middle eastern dish. High in nutrition, designed to be prepared and eaten communally.

Ingredients

150ml cooking oil

1kg long grain rice

1.5kg lamb or any other kind of meat

500g onions

500g carrots

2 tbsp salt

5 cloves of garlic

raisins, cardamom, paprika, coriander, cinnamon, cumin, turmeric (all optional)

Directions

Put the cooking oil in a cauldron and heat it until the oil is boiling, add a head of onion until it is black, then throw it out.

Throw coarsely chopped meat into the cauldron and let it boil until it's golden brown, then add a pinch of salt.

Add the chopped onions, then wait 2 minutes and add the sliced carrots, boil for another 2 minutes.

Add 500 ml of water diluted with tomato paste, boil for 5 minutes.

Rinse the rice and put it into the cauldron but do not mix.

Add another 500 ml of water diluted with tomato paste and wait until it is boiling.

Reduce the heat to minimum, then add two table spoons of salt.

Close the cauldron and leave it on low heat for 1.5-2 hours.

1 hour before it is ready(or when you can't see water above the rice), add the garlic.

You can now turn over the rice if it is undercooked and add some raisins.

Keep boiling until all water is evaporated.

Making the Case for Canada in New York

Recently, I travelled to New York to fight for Canada and fight for tariff-free trade.

Over two days, I met with investors, business leaders, policy experts and employers. I spoke directly to American audiences through interviews with CNBC, Fox Business, CBS and Bloomberg.

A lot of the conversation was focused on tariffs, trade disputes and economic uncertainty. But what stood out most was something else: the American people still see Canada as a trusted friend, ally and trading partner. Everywhere I went, people spoke warmly about our country.

That should not come as a surprise.

Canada and the United States have built one of the closest partnerships in the world. We share the longest undefended border. Our economies are deeply connected. We have fought alongside one another in times of war, traded together in times of peace and built prosperity together for decades.

While in New York, I also visited the National 9/11 Memorial ahead of the 25th anniversary of the terrorist attack.

The memorial reminds visitors of one of the darkest days in modern history. It is also a reminder of the strength of the friendship between our two countries. Canadians welcomed stranded Americans when their flights were diverted to airports like Gander. Later, our soldiers stood shoulder to shoulder in the fight against the terrorists in Afghanistan.

That friendship, forged through shared sacrifice and strengthened over generations, remains one of our greatest assets.

Our real adversaries are not each other. They are the authoritarian regimes that threaten free markets, freedoms and the security of the Western world. They seek to dominate supply chains, manipulate energy markets and weaken democratic alliances.

That is why Canada and the US must work together to build a stronger, more competitive and self-reliant North America.

Canada has an enormous role to play. We can provide the energy, uranium, potash and critical minerals needed to power North American industry. We have 10 out of the 12 NATO-defined minerals needed to fight a war. The United States can provide investment, innovation and access to markets. Together, we can create jobs and grow our economies on both sides of the border while reducing our dependence on hostile regimes.

Tariffs move us in the wrong direction.

They raise costs for consumers and workers. They create uncertainty for businesses and investors. They make it harder to grow our economies and create good paying jobs on both sides of the border.

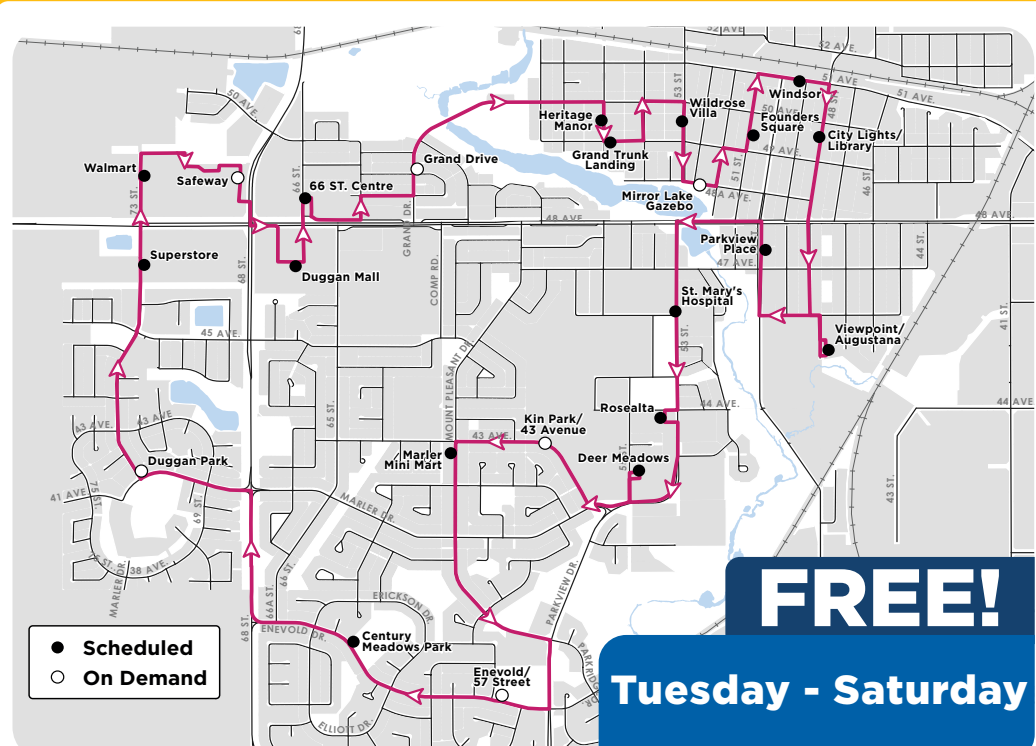

The message I brought to New York was simple: Canada is America's best friend, closest ally and most reliable economic partner. And I was able to share how right here in Battle River—Crowfoot, we showcase just that, from our people to our energy and agriculture sectors.

Our countries have achieved great things together. We can achieve even more if we choose cooperation over conflict, growth over barriers and free trade over tariffs.

That is good for Canada. It is good for the United States. And it is the path to a stronger, safer and more prosperous North America.

MEET A CHEF: Joshua Carvelli Head Chef @ Portland Street Pizza / Eighty-Eight Brewing in Calgary, AB

Chef Joshua Carvelli's culinary journey began unexpectedly when an overstaffed golf course redirected him to a position in its restaurant. That chance opportunity changed the course of his life. He immediately fell in love with cooking and the fast-paced rhythm of the restaurant world.

After relocating to Calgary, he began his career as a line cook and steadily worked his way into leadership roles, growing his skills, confidence, and passion along the way. Cooking became both a creative outlet and a daily form of self-expression, shaping a career that has never felt like just a job. For Carvelli, the kitchen remains a place of inspiration, a craft and calling that continues to fuel his creativity and purpose.

What made you want to become a chef?

"Growing up my grandpa always told me to do something that felt like a passion project and less of a dreadful career. Being able to show off who I am and all the little things that I learn every day from different cultures and experiences, then transforming that into different dishes and plates lets me feel a sense of growth and creates a different challenge each day. This is what I live for... Can I make someone's day by something I create. That is why I want to be and am a Chef."

Why do you use Alberta ingredients in your kitchen?

"Community outreach and the sense of being able to support people close to you is so important to me. We have the ability to grow wonderful products and source products from talented farmers which allows us to have fresh product each day. If we can support someone in our community then we all should, I think we would all be better off that way."

What is your favourite Alberta ingredient to use?

"We have access to a variety of fresh produce grown here in Alberta which allows me to create so many different recipes and dishes. If I had to pick one, it would be the classic saskatoon berries or beautiful carrots Alberta farmers grow."

What dish should guests be sure to try on your menu?

"We do a feature pasta each month that I carefully try to use as many Alberta ingredients as possible."

What do you like most about Alberta food and drink?

"The biggest aspect is that it creates a community of people alike. From the farmers to chefs to everyone else it allows us to do what we love, eat what we love and enjoy that time with people closest to us from things happening in our backyard. The more we can support local the more we can grow as a community and as a hub for great food and drink in not only Canada but the world!"

Alberta on the Plate showcases the incredible bounty that is grown and produced across our beautiful province. Throughout the year, we celebrate and share the Alberta food story by introducing you to the people and businesses that grow, raise, create, and support the agri-food industry in Alberta. Every August during Alberta Local Food Week, Alberta on the Plate hosts a ten-day, province-wide dine around festival. Get more info at:
